

JENICA LEAH

- ▶ Sickle Cell Ambassador
- ▶ Award Winning Author
- ▶ Health and Lifestyle Blogger

SICKLE CELL ANAEMIA: MY EXPERIENCE

Didn't understand my condition

Feeling of Isolation

Low self esteem / self confidence

SICKLE CELL ANAEMIA: MY EXPERIENCE

Taking Responsibility

Lack of knowledge and empathy from teachers

Misunderstood

SICKLE CELL ANAEMIA: MY EXPERIENCE

Complications I have experienced with sickle cell

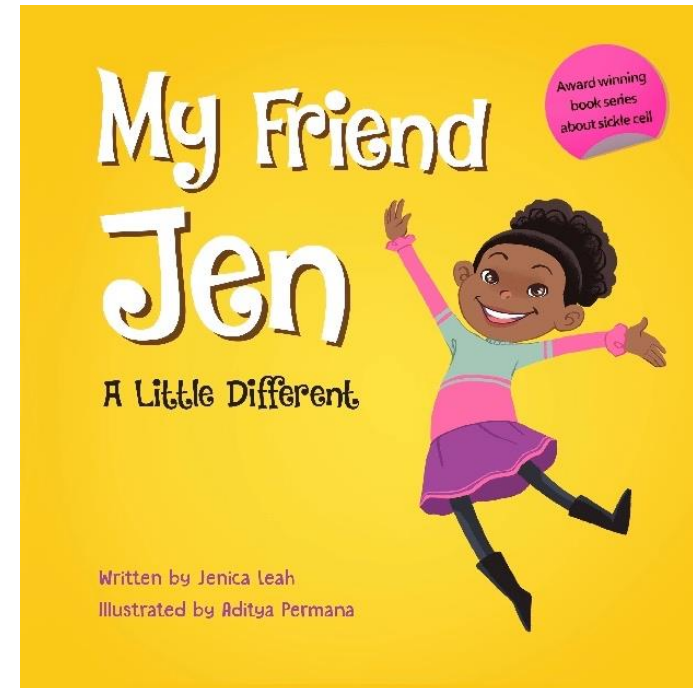

- Stroke
- Acute Chest Syndrome
- Gall stones
- Avascular Necrosis
- Hepatic Crisis
- Pulmonary Embolism

SICKLE CELL ANAEMIA: MY EXPERIENCE

MY FRIEND JEN

- Give children growing up with sickle cell peace of mind and confidence
- If I knew then what I know now
- There is nothing that you can't do

MY FRIEND JEN

MY FRIEND JEN

★★★★★ Five Stars

By Professor Dame Elizabeth N. Anionwu
on 7 November 2017

An excellent book for young children affected by sickle cell disorders. Well done Jenica!

deej209 @justjleah Amazing Book!! Perfect for children Caiden is 4 and he really enjoyed this book! When teaching your child they are different inside this was perfect! Thank You! ❤️❤️❤️❤️

Customer Reviews (1)

★★★★★

This book is beautifully illustrated and is cleverly written in it ...

This book is beautifully illustrated and is cleverly written in its originality and content. The story is enjoyable and the author does a good job of educating young children about an illness that affects many. Most importantly, it teaches our children that friendship is the foundation of mutual trust and support and that everyone can be befriended, even though they may be a little different on the inside. I would definitely recommend this book as it is an inspiring and educational read for our children

JENICA LEAH

- ▶ Sickle Cell Ambassador
- ▶ Award Winning Author
- ▶ Health and Lifestyle Blogger